Post-Mortem on NIE 36. 5-56:

The Outlook for US Interests in Libya,

dated 19 June 1956

I. Findings

1. No major intelligence deficiencies were encountered in the preparation of this estimate. The chief estimative problem--that of the outcome and implications for US interests of the political struggle likely to follow the death of the king--is one of speculative judgment, rather than one resulting from specific intelligence deficiencies.
